County budget up 33%

Property owners in Haliburton County will be paying 33.2% more for the operation of the county government.

The budget for the county was released at the regular meeting of the council held March 18.

As pointed out at the meeting by Cardiff Reeve

Bill Howe, chairman of the management committee, a committee of the ten reeves which finalizes the budget, two factors account for the budget increase. They are the $133,200 commitment the county has made to the construction of the chronic care addition at the Haliburton Hospital, a one-time expenditure, and the $168,000 cost of establishing the county-wide welfare service. This latter amount will be an ongoing expense which is certain to be larger next year as the budget presented on Wednesday did not cover a full year's operation for the welfare system.

The budget, less these two expenditures, would show a 3.5% increase over last year's actual expenditure, it was pointed out by Howe.

This year the Haliburton County administration plans to spend $1,640,733. This amount is reduced by an estimated revenue of $302,525 from the general support grant, resource equalization grant, land division application fees, supplementary taxes (amounts raised from new tax sources established during 1987) and other revenue.

Including a $13,536 deficit carried forward from last year, the net levy to be raised for county purposes is $1,351,744. The distribution of this amount among the ten municipalities can be seen in the chart accompanying this article.

Included in the budget for 1987 was a 26% increase under the heading of General government to $193,043 from $153,745 spent last year. It was noted that the cost of borrowing money to finance the operation of the roads department has been moved into this section, since the interest paid is a non-subsidizable expenditure.

Dysart Deputy Reeve Bill Davis questioned the $40,000 which has been allotted for bank interest and charges for 1987. He noted that while some $23,000 had been budgeted for this expense last year, over $36,000 had in fact, been spent. He pointed out that he had drawn this growing expense to the attention of the council during the presentation of last year's budget.

Howe said the county was caught by the fluctuating interest rates, when the county was borrowing money from the bank, the rate was up, however, when the county had a surplus in the bank, rates were down. He said he couldn't provide exact details at the moment, but suggested that the late arrival of transfer payments from the province resulted in additional borrowing by the county.

Warden Murray Fearrey also noted that when the 1986 budget was being prepared, a new clerk-treasurer was taking office. He said the interest required for the borrowing needs of the roads department was not taken into consideration. The acting clerk, County Engineer Bill Obee confirmed that interest charges for all borrowing will be covered under a single account. He noted that last year the county borrowed over one million dollars.

Except for the extended debate regarding the method of presenting the annual budget (see second story), no other questions about the budget were raised.

Other allotments approved by the councillors included $3000 under protection of persons and property which includes a $1500 grant to the mutual fire aid, and $1500 wolf bounty. This compared with $3175 spent last year on

Team, school awaits decision

There is likely to be a distinct lack of concentration this morning at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The distraction from the usual study routine is the result of a special meeting in Peterborough at which a decision will be made as to whether the HHSS Redmen will be taking part in the all Ontario Hockey Finals scheduled for this week in North Bay.

The meeting has changed the euphoric mood of the team, students and supporters to one of quiet apprehension as they await the decision on a protest lodged by the Fenelon Falls Secondary School Falcon team.

The Redmen defeated the Falcons Friday, March 13 in the final game of a best of three Kawartha District Championship. The 2-1 victory proved to be one of the most exciting in the Redmen's first season and ensured the team would travel to the All Ontario playoffs.

The protest from the Fenelon team centres on one of the Redmen players. During Friday's game, Ted Paish was given a five minute penalty for boarding.

According to the Fenelon protest, once a player has received a five minute penalty, he should not be allowed to play again during that game. Ted Paish did play again, leading to the Fenelon protest.

The referee at the game was apparently unaware of the regulation and HHSS coach Gary Brohman said he was unclear about it as well. Brohman said the Fenelon coach attempted to discuss the matter with him, but as Brohman noted, there was a game in progress, there were 700 yelling fans in the arena and a qualified referee was in charge of the game. He indicated that at that point in the game it was not his place to begin interpreting the rules for the referee.

The game was played to completion with Mike MacNaull scoring the winning goal for the Redmen in the final minutes of the third period.

Officials from both teams have been exchanging communications for several days in an attempt to resolve the disagreement. A suggestion that the portion of the game following the penalty to Paish, be replayed, was rejected by the

Deputies object to budget procedures

An attempt by two junior members of the Haliburton County Council to change the procedure followed during the presentation of the annual budget ended in failure Wednesday afternoon (March 18).

Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy Reeve Bern Berry supported by Lutterworth Deputy Reeve Carole Puffer asked the other members of the council for a seven day period to study the budget figures presented to them just over an hour earlier. Berry claimed the time allotted for their consideration of the $1.3 million budget was too short to give it a thorough examination.

A formal resolution offered by Berry and seconded by Puffer requesting the one week delay in final approval of the budget was defeated when all other members of the council voted against the motion.

An attempt to ensure there would be adequate opportunity for all members of council to examine the budget next year, also went down to defeat. The motion these two items.

- a 3.8% increase in the roads budget from $661,072 to $685,000. Much of the work carried out by all municipal roads departments, including the county, is eligible for subsidy from the provincial government. Taking these additional funds into consideration, the county has undertaken to spend $3,200,000 on the roads system this year.

- a 16% increase in the budget for health services, not including the one-time $133,200 grant to the hospital expansion mentioned earlier. The 16% will be applied to the amount required by the district health unit, an increase from $65,538 to $76,000. The county's representative on the health unit, Keith Tallman noted that most of the increase could be attributed to salaries.

- there is a large, 78% increase in the social and family services budget, however some $168,000 or 70% of that is assigned to the new county welfare system.

Major changes outside of this item, include an increase from $201,000 spent at Hyland Crest last year to $215,000 earmarked for 1987, and an increase in Children's Aid Society spending from $37,281 to $42,500. Grants to the Haliburton County Home Support Service and the County of Haliburton

Information Centre, of $1000 each remain unchanged this year.

The provincial government contributes large shares to the operation of Hyland Crest and the social assistance program. The county is expected to receive $1,425,000 from the province for Hyland Crest and $450,000 for the new welfare system.

It has been noted that the transfer of the welfare expenses to the county should be reflected in a decrease in the township budgets. However, all indications are that the decreases at the township level will not match the increase from the county to cover this service.

- only a slight increase has been noted in recreational and cultural services budget, from $29,218 spent last year to $29,450 planned for this year. All grants issued under this heading have remained static, including $3000 to the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, $1000 to the Paudash Trail Blazers and a $1250 grant to the county, the second of a three year commitment, while $1000 has again been allotted to the operation of the information booth in Cardiff. The drop in this sector of the budget from $72,000 paid last year; can be traced to the $10,000 contribution made to the construction of the new Chamber of Commerce office on Highway 35.

In addition to the approval of the budget, the council endorsed two bylaws increasing the salaries of the county clerk and county engineer. The clerk's salary has been raised to $27,000 plus an expense allowance of $3000. When questioned on this increase, from $21,000 when he was hired last year and $24,000 set in June following the probationary period, Warden Murray Fearrey noted that the clerk, Gary McKnight, was doing a good job and the previous salary had made him the lowest paid clerk-treasurer in the province.

The new salary for the county engineer and road superintendent Bill Obee, was set at $45,000 plus $500 expenses.

Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts. The budget of the county library system remains unchanged at $22,700. The library system expects to receive an additional $144,000 from the provincial government. The Haliburton County Water Levels Committee was allotted $500 this year compared to $268 spent last year.

- the budget for the operating of the land division committee, under planning and development, is up 11% with an increase in expenditure from $27,504 last year to $30,540 in 1987.

- in commercial and industrial development, the budget has dropped by over 13%. The Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce will continue to receive $62,000 from the from Carol Puffer, and seconded by Bern Berry asked that in 1988, the budget be circulated at least a week prior to being presented for final approval. Again, only the mover and seconder voted in favour of the motion.

Berry told the members of the council that he had requested access to the budget the week previous, after contacting the chairman of the management committee, Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe. He said Howe told him he could not see it until the regular public meeting.

Noting that the municipality he represents is responsible for over 16% of the county funds raised through municipal taxes, Berry said, "I find it difficult to approve this document with so little time to study it." He said the council should be taking a closer look at the amount being spent on roads, on general government and the county's insurance costs, which he pointed out, were up 42% this year.

"I'm not trying to make enemies," Berry told the members of council, most of whom were obviously not pleased with what he had to say, "I want to be a part of this county council and understand the budget we are being asked to pass."

Under the procedures established by the council, the individual committees, which include various members of council, submit their budget requirements to the management committee. The ten reeves, representing all municipalities in the county, are members of that committee. They create the final budget which is then presented at the March meeting of county council for approval.

A recent realignment of county council has resulted in only the larger municipalities being represented by deputy reeves. While the deputy reeves may be members of the various committees, they are not included in the management committee and therefore are not involved in the formation of the final budget.

Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis pointed out that the membership on the management committee had been restricted to the ten reeves. "If you're not on it, that's not our fault," he commented.

Warden, and Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey, responding to the motion put forward by Berry said if the motion passed, it would cost about $2000 for the council to reconvene the following week to give the budget final approval.

The Warden commented, "It is all right for you to grandstand about this, but there is very little in this budget that can be changed." He noted that many of the amounts were tied directly to payments received from the province, or expenditures that were unavoidable such as those covered by wage contracts.

Fearrey said there was little that could be changed unless the county undertook to deliberately cut services.

He suggested that items such as the councillors' mileage stipend, the clerk's expense allotment, the donation to the mutual fire aid system, or payment of the wolf bounty would be areas where the councillors could make cuts and that these areas did not involve a lot of money anyway.

Fearrey suggested that the change suggested by Berry represented a challenge to the committee system as established by the council. He suggested that the councillor must have faith in the financial decisions of the various committees and trust the management committee to draft a budget in the best interests of the county.

Bill Howe, the chairman of the management committee, reiterated the Warden's point, saying that all members of council must have faith in the committee system. "If 16 people are going to sit and pound the budget, I will have nothing to do with it," the Bicroft Reeve stated.

In response to a comment from Berry that it was impossible to scrutinize the budget in an afternoon, Howe said, "I am prepared to stand here as long as necessary to explain this budget, but I will not back any delays in its passage."

Lutterworth Deputy Reeve Carol Puffer said she felt she had a 'gun to her head' in being asked to vote on the budget which had been placed before her less than an hour and a half earlier.

Warden Fearrey noted that the two deputy reeves who were raising objections had representatives from their municipalities on the management committee. "They appear not to trust these individuals," he commented.

Puffer responded by suggesting it was the management committee that did not trust the other members of council and would not let them see the contents of the budget before the day of the meeting.

Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick told the meeting that in his opinion it was the duty of every councillor to scrutinize the budget before endorsing it. Berry asked the reeve how much time was adequate. Vick noted that in the past the members of council were allowed to examine the document "over a coffee break...you've had long enough," he added.

Following the defeat of the two motions, the council was adjourned for a 15 minute break.

When the council resumed, Howe offered several more comments prior to the passage of the budget. "I take exception to the suggestion that some people think the management committee is not giving the budget careful consideration or that we are trying to put one over on everyone."

After a few more questions regarding the budget details, the document was endorsed by all but two members of the council. Deputy Reeves Bern Berry and Carol Puffer voted against.

Tradition dies hard at Haliburton County Council...some would say it never dies. That was the case at the March meeting when two members of this august body attempted to bring a little more light to bear on the annual budget consideration.

Specifically, the deputy-reeves of Anson, Hindon and Minden and Lutterworth townships wanted more time to study the details of the county's $1.3 million budget. Attempts by Minden representative Bern Berry to gain access to the budget a week prior to the meeting proved fruitless. Tradition, according to the chairman of the management committee Bill Howe, dictated that only the reeves of the ten municipalities (who are also the members of the management committee) should be aware of the budget prior to the meeting.

The suggestion that the deputy reeves should have prior access was portrayed by the Warden as an attack on the present committee system in which various sub-committees prepare budget proposals for their special areas of interest and submit them to the management committee for final approval. We suggest that the committee system would not crumble if those members of council who are not reeves had an opportunity to see the budget before the meeting day. The deputy reeves were asked to trust the committees to have faith in the system. They are a part of the system, or at least should be included to the point where that same trust and faith is returned to them.

The majority, we believe, acted hastily and without fair consideration when they rejected the request for a one week review period prior to next year's budget. Perhaps the councillors were angered by the attack by mere deputy reeves on such a long-standing tradition. However, I think they should reconsider that tradition.

The greatest power we hand municipal politicians with our ballot is the power to take from each of us, a share of our income to spend for the common good.

The least we can expect from them is that in spending those taxes they do so prudently and with attention to detail. The two deputy reeves were attempting to fulfil their role as elected representatives.

The tradition of giving the deputy reeves only a few hours (at most) to review the budget should be changed. Like the municipal politicians in Victoria County, all members of county council should be given at least a week to study what is likely to be the most significant piece of legislation they will consider this year.

Mellow matadors

by Arthur Black

Well, I see where the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede Board has just nixed the idea of holding a bullfight in the Stampede grounds this spring. Good thing, too. Oh it was going to be one of those bloodless Portuguese bullfights -- no picadors or banderillos or matadors, no terrified horses or bloodied bulls facing long thin swords -- but I'm still glad they called it off.

Mind you, their motives weren't entirely altruistic. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had vowed to sue their leather chaps off it they went ahead with the scheme.

But they didn't and I'm glad. Not because I hold any particular brief against bullfights. It's because I'm worried that a Canadian bullfight might pose a grave threat to that warm blanket of hypocrisy we Canadians like to wrap ourselves in.

Bullfights are cruel, you say? I can show you more cruelty in twenty minutes at the nearest Canada Manpower office.

Bullfights are bloodthirsty you say? Been to a Junior A hockey game recently? Did you catch Willy de Witt's last bout?

In any case, we didn't need another Canadian bullfight in Calgary -- bloodless or otherwise. We've already had one and it was more fiasco than fiesta.

It happened in the town of Lindsay, Ontario back in 1958. Someone had the bright idea that what Lindsay needed to raise a few bucks and suck in the tourists was a full fledged, Chamber of Commerce sponsored corrida de toros.

That's Spanish for 'bullfight', hoser.

Well, to make a long and ugly story short and sweet, it was just about the worst idea anybody in Lindsay ever had.

Oh, they lined up some Spanish bulls, which ticked off the local cattlemen "Wuts wrong with Canuck bulls, fer cryin' out loud?"

And they lined up some Spanish bullfighters, which ticked off customs officials at the border. "Now tell us again Senor Gilberto, you are going to Lindsay to...fight...bulls???"

And they fenced in a ball diamond, and trucked in a few ton of sand and sold tickets and proceeded to advertise the fact that the town of Lindsay was about to stage

Canada's very first bullfight.

Which ticked off enough people to darned near touch off World War Three.

Magazine writers, radio commentators, TV crews and just plain folks with their very own safari jackets streamed into Lindsay to watch, record and pontificate on the afternoon of butchery. Newspaper editorials slashed at the callous inhumanity of the Lindsay elders. Letters to the editor bristled with vicious threats, grim predictions and pious condemnations.

Everybody could have saved their breath.

The Lindsay Bullfight was a bust. Either the bulls were doped or the matadors were -- or maybe bullfights just don't work this far north of the equator -- whatever the reason, nothing happened at the Lindsay Bullfight. It was about as savage and cruel as watching sheep graze.

I wasn't around for the Lindsay farce, but I have seen bullfights. Several as a matter of fact. And what I remember is not the savagery or the cruelty, though there is some of that, to the North American eye, for sure.

But I guess I'm kind of used to savagery and cruelty. As a teenager, I worked at the Toronto Public Stock Yards and Canada Packers, whence cometh all those nice, neat, sanitized, saran-wrapped chops and cutlets and minced steak we all see at our friendly corner supermarket.

Now I won't go into details because I don't know how close you are to dinner time, but I would infinitely rather watch a dozen bullfights than have to witness what one cow goes through travelling from the feedlot to the freezer.

I once met a man who ate a blue jay. I asked him why and he told me it was an accident. He'd been hunting partridges, drew a bead on one, and just as he pulled the trigger a blue jay flew in front of him and took the blast.

"Yeah, but why did you eat it?" I asked.

He said it was because he'd once vowed never to kill anything he wasn't willing to eat.

"Tasted like hell too" he said.

I'll bet. But I've got a lot more respect for him than I have for the folks I see leaning over the supermarket meat counter with "Save the Whales" buttons on their lapels.

Editor:

It is a sad day. I have just read that objections have been raised regarding the placement of a day care centre on Prince Street in Minden.

The arguments have been heard before:

"It will lower the value of my property";

"It's the wrong building for the zoning designation"; and finally, most potent of all -

"Not in my back yard, you don't!"

We are not talking about halfway houses for ex-convicts. We are not even talking about the shelters for battered women and abused children, although the same reasons have been put forward to try to prevent their intrusion on people's lives and communities.

And, God knows, we are desperately short of those facilities.

No, we are talking about a way in which the services offered by C.H.A.C.E. can be used, not to replace, but to support families that need day care for their children. That service is needed here in Minden. And that service needs all the support and encouragement we as a community can give it.

We can choose to be swayed by those who argue in favour of property values, zoning bylaws, and protection against the "threat" of twenty-two pre-schoolers next door.

That choice will send a clear message, not only to the child care workers, and the mothers and fathers of those children, but to any family that has settled or wants to settle in the area.

The message is this:

"We don't really care about your children and your family life because our priorities here are secure investments and sanitized neighbourhoods."

On the other hand, we can choose to look past our notions of protection, politics, and privacy and ask ourselves, "How can we better support our families and each other as we raise our children in very difficult times?"

The day care centre in Minden gives us a way to make that support possible.

Let's give it a chance!

Rev. Edward Moll,

After attending last Tuesday night's Farmer's meeting and listening to the proposal to include Cardiff under the Veterinarian program, I, as a full time farmer, would like to tell County Council to stop playing politics with the Farmers' Association.

As the first president and one of the first ones on the committee who worked to get a vet to this area, many years ago. I am a little upset with what is going on behind the scenes.

When the vet came to the county, it was discussed how to pay our share. The farmers chose to have themselves pay, rather than as a lot of other organizations, running to county council for a hand out.

Cardiff at the start and until March 31 1987 has belonged to North Hastings Veterinarian services and has been served by two vets under contracts out of Bancroft area, which is really close to them.

Dr. Maxwell is also under contract to serve this eastern part of the county if need be. Since the association chose to change the vet plan last year, Dr. Bennett in Minden chose to resign as a large animal vet under this program. Also the vet to the south chose not to sign contracts with Haliburton County Veterinarian Services. This now leaves us with one vet.

At last night's meeting it was said that membership grew from 30 members to 99 paid members and our vet made 500 calls in 1986, up from 100 in 1985. What concerns me, are we spreading one vet too thin? These 500 calls she made are to paid members of the Association. Over and above this she has non-members and small animals to look after.

I feel we got the vet services up here because we were concerned with the time element with the vets getting up here from Lindsay. I know Cardiff is part of Haliburton County, and they were in the North Hastings Veterinary Services before we got a vet here I feel they should stay with that service until such time as we can get another full-time vet under contract.

As a full time farmer, I would say to County Council, stick to building new roads and running what ever else you do up there. Leave politics out of the Farmers' Association. The vote last night to accept Cardiff was five for and four against. The five that voted for, either have no animals or a few small ones. The four against represent over two hundred head of cattle, including cow and calves, so this shows you the concern of the people with the largest investment, who are just trying to protect their investment.

Coming home

Tourism continues to grow

- by Bill Scott, MP -

When the Progressive Conservative government came to office in September 1984, it inherited a multitude of economic problems left unresolved by the previous government.

The results of the agenda for economic renewal introduced by our government are obvious, the creation of 675,000 jobs and an unemployment rate of less than ten per cent in January 1987, to name just a couple.

Tourism, which is a vital part of our economy, is now worth more than $20 billion a year and represents 4 per cent of Canada's Gross National Product (GNP).

Tourism provides direct employment for 600,000 Canadians and indirect employment for a further 500,000. More than 61,000 businesses, most of them independently owned, are directly involved in tourism and 41,000 others, such as sporting goods stores, are indirectly involved.

Between January and December 1986, 16.2 million tourists entered Canada, an increase of 18.3 per cent and 20.9 per cent compared to the same periods in 1985 and 1984 respectively. According to Statistics Canada estimates, despite the close of Expo 86, the number of tourists entering Canada in November and December 1986 was up 4.6 per cent and 12 per cent compared to the same months in 1985 respectively. Preliminary data for January to October 1986 show that restaurant, caterer and tavern receipts totalled $10,836 million, an increase of 10.4 per cent compared to the same period in 1985 and an increase of 18.7 per cent compared to the same period in 1984.

These figures are proof that our government has created a climate of confidence for the tourism industry. It is becoming evident that it is false and misleading to claim that this same government wants to interfere with the growth of this sector by applying nationwide measures such as the sales tax on gasoline and diesel fuel, measures which are necessary to control the deficit. It should also be noted that the deficit, which is $32.3 billion for 1986-87, would be about $40 billion if we had let it continue to grow at the rate it grew under the previous government.

$10 million for Ottawa heart clinic

-by John Eakins MPP-

Premier David Peterson and my colleague, the Honourable Murray Elston, Minister of Health, have announced that Ontario will provide $10 million toward the construction of a new, $17 million heart research centre at the University of Ottawa Heart Institute.

The Heart Institute will serve Eastern Ontario as well as the entire province and indeed all of Canada. Premier Peterson said Ontario and the country as a whole must build on our centres of strength in order to foster excellence.

Premier Peterson pointed to the outstanding work of heart surgeon, Dr. Wilbert Keon, who heads the Heart Institute, as an example of the world class success made possible by the Ottawa Centre.

The Premier was also in Ottawa to attend the quarterly meeting on free trade along with the other First Ministers where Ontario was advised on the move toward a draft trade agreement between Canada and the United States.

Details of the agreement are expected to be presented to the Premiers at their next meeting on June 22. The final agreement is expected to be drafted in time for the following meeting on September 8.

The Premier and the Prime Minister anticipate extensive public discussions on the free trade issue during the summer months.

My view - and that of the Government of Ontario - is that we must take a more cautious approach toward a free trade agreement. There is no clear indication of what is at stake for Ontario on the bargaining table. In other words, we have to have more answers before we commit the future of the Province to a free-trade agreement.

Here in Victoria-Haliburton, the Kawartha Region Conservation Authority will be receiving financial assistance from the Ministry of Natural Resources. My colleague, Vince Kerrio, the Minister, has advised me that the KRCA will be receiving $268,329 to undertake various water management conservation and recreation projects within the Authority's watershed. This grant represents a four per cent increase over the 1986 grant level.

a holocaust very similar to the Jewish holocaust, if not more severe in terms of human toll. Therefore it's ironic that the Soviet Regime is hunting down Nazi war criminals when they themselves are covering up their own war crimes.

Hopefully, reports and inquiries such as the Deschenes report will give Canadian courts jurisdiction to try in Canada war crimes or crimes against humanity on an individual basis, where the conduct in question would amount to a criminal offence in Canada, and at the same time ease ethnic tensions.

Watch for next week's well written report on Hitler, written by Will Wallace of Minden, age 9 and a grade 4 student at Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

change in our procedures or in our law would depend substantially on the weight of evidence brought forward. Parliament would need a good deal of persuading before changing the law in the fundamentals of this matter." Also in response to a Moscow Foreign Ministry spokesman accusing Britain of evading Soviet attempts to bring war criminals to justice, Hurd remarked "The Russian Soviet record on human rights makes extradition there unthinkable."

I and countless others would agree with Hurd's remark. Many people today are unaware of Joseph Stalin, a mad man who, as leader of the U.S.S.R., was behind the planned starvation of millions of Ukrainians soon after the second World War, creating Canada, if they are still alive, would be close to eighty. But fortunately or unfortunately the passage of time has not made groups such as the Simon Wiesenthal Institute or the Russian Government any less determined in hunting down Nazi war criminals.

Due to pressure from these groups, countries such as the U.S., Canada and more recently Australia are cracking down with more force on suspected war criminals. Ottawa plans to act on the Deschenes report by amending the Criminal Code so that suspected Nazis living here can be tried in Canada.

One country that is reluctant to act against Nazi war criminals living in their country is Britain. British Home Secretary Douglas Hurd was recently quoted as saying that "the case for any

The following is part one of a two part write-up concerning events that occurred some 45 years ago.

Recently Mr. Justice Jules Deschenes presented a 996 page report on Nazi war criminals that took two years to complete at a cost to Canadian taxpayers of 4 million dollars.

Since 1951, six countries have asked Canada to extradite ten suspected Nazi war criminals. The only time Canada acted was three and a half years ago when an old man by the name of Albert Helmut Rauca of Willowdale was extradited to West Germany to stand trial for the murder of thousands of Jews during World War II. He died before the case went to trial.

The average age of assumed war criminals in from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

As a constant booster of the Chamber, I am always somewhat taken aback by the "Why should I join the Chamber. What does it do for me?" attitude. I react with trying to point out one or two of the more important aspects of chamber membership, but today I would like to list many of those which I think are important.

The first, of course, is the right to vote at the annual meeting of elections of officers. Along with this goes the right to run and sit on our board as a director for a one year term. Your membership also entitles you to display your business cards and distribute information at our Chamber office. Your membership in our chamber, which is a member of the Ontario and Canadian Chambers of Commerce, allows your input to be carried for discussion at the annual meetings of the Canadian and Provincial Chamber meetings. If your idea or resolution is passed at this level, then it goes straight to the respective cabinets of the Provincial and Federal governments for consideration.

The most important thing for many of our members is the right to participate in the Chambers of Commerce Group Life, Disability, Drug and Dental Plan. This plan is made available for both big and small businesses allowing a single sole proprietor to enjoy group benefits that even many in a larger corporation do not have.

The chamber office gives referrals for inquiries of business services to chamber members. This is especially vital for the resort accommodation segment of our chamber. There are inquiry lists available on a regular basis and are distributed only to our members. The chamber, as well, coordinates promotional shows, that stress the tourism aspect of our county, such as the Sportsmen's Show, Eaton Centre, Cullen Gardens etc.

Direct membership services include discounts on photocopying, secretarial service when available, membership list of other members, the advice and experience of our manager Shirley Rapson concerning government programs, i.e. Destinations East etc. The chamber serves as an information focal point for many of the businesses and community groups in our county.

The chamber also sits on several boards, either as a voting or non voting member, e.g. The LEAD Corporation, Nordic Trails, COTA. Your membership then allows the potential for input into these and other various boards. As well the county has its representative on our board. This representative can relay concerns of our membership back to the county level.

Finally and most importantly, membership in our chamber is an affirmation of the business community's faith in this county as a place we can all live, grow and prosper.

Haliburton officials.

And so both teams have been forced to take their cases to the Ontario Secondary School Athletic Association (OSSA). Coaches and principals from both schools and officials from OSSA will be meeting this morning, Wednesday, March 25, in Peterborough to reach a final answer, an answer the Redmen coach Gary Brohman says he is ready to accept and abide by.

Meanwhile, at both schools, the players will have come prepared to depart that afternoon for North Bay to represent the Kawartha District in the All Ontario finals.

And in those schools as well, until the decision is announced over the public address system sometime before noon, it is likely that few students will have their minds on the work in front of them.

Skaters plan annual carnival

The Minden Skating Club will be holding their annual skating carnival this Sunday, March 29 at 2 p.m. All the skaters, coaches, and parents have been working very hard to produce an exciting show and are pleased to have the "Vintage Blue" Masters Precision Team as well as Gary Beacom as guest skaters.

The precision team is comprised of 16-20 skaters, all of whom are ladies 21 years of age and over. They have quite an impressive competition record including winning the gold medal at the recent Northern Ontario Sectional Championships as well as in 1985 and the silver medal in 1986. The team is coached by Diane Lloyd who was featured in the Canadian Skater magazine as one of the top precision coaches. Precision teams are becoming very popular in the skating world and it will be a treat to watch this exciting team.

Gary Beacom was Silver Medallist for Canada in 1983 and 1984 and 13th in the world in 1983. Now skating professionally with the Torvil & Dean Ice Show, he is still thrilling audiences the world over. He is only able to be here in Minden this year due to the ice show being cancelled for several months because of Christopher Dean's broken wrist. Gary has a reputation as an innovative and artistic freeskater and always is a real entertainer.

Plan to attend this year's carnival to watch these exciting performers as well as the local skaters who are always eager to show their accomplishments to a receptive audience.

Did you know?

by Doreen Hawman

Have you ever purchased an item from a salesperson in your home and after signing a contract and giving a deposit, the following day realize you did not need the article or could you afford it?

Did you wonder if there was a way of cancelling such a contract and having your deposit returned?

The Ontario Consumer Protection Act allows for what is called a cooling off period in which contracts of $50 or more and signed in a home, can be cancelled by letter (applies only when $50 or more and negotiated and signed away from the seller's permanent place of business, e.g. your home).

Your letter must be personally delivered or registered at the post office within two clear working days after the contract comes into your hands. (only Sundays and statutory holidays are not considered working days.) Note: This does not apply on cash sales on the spot from door to door salespersons.

Fifteen needed for Minden to get Legion

If 15 Canadian service veterans come to a charter meeting at the Minden library at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, Minden will get its own branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

That was the gist of what Legion Zone secretary Mabel Brannigan told a meeting of 76 area residents last Wednesday night in the municipal building.

Brannigan said she and other organizers of a Minden Legion branch were "thrilled with the response we got at the meeting." She said everyone they spoke to was enthusiastic about the project.

The purpose of the meeting was to determine how many Canadian service veterans from the area would be willing to join the new branch. According to Legion rules, a minimum of 15 eligible veterans who are not affiliated with other branches must apply for membership at next Tuesday's charter meeting.

Legion Zone Commander Mel Robertson, who had been invited to speak last Wednesday, explained that "if the district commander doesn't see at least 15 vets, we won't get our charter."

He stressed that filling out application forms and sending them in would not be enough. Prospective members would have to show up at the charter meeting.

One of the questions raised by audience members was where the new branch would have its headquarters.

Robertson suggested that grants could be obtained from a range of government bodies to help pay for the construction of a building. The Haliburton Village Legion, he said, had recently paid for an addition to their headquarters with a grant from Wintario. He suggested that the new Minden branch would do well to apply to the lottery corporation, as well.

He said that one way to raise money for the new branch would be for members to buy $1,000 bonds.

"If there're 140 members in Minden," he said, "and let's say 100 of them bought bonds, then we'd be able to get the building off the ground - because once you've got your building, then you're somewhere."

But some members of the audience protested. Jack Stacey, an area resident who was recently a member of the Oshawa Legion branch, said he thought $1000 was too much and that people might be better able to deal with contributions in the $50 to $100 range, "especially for those of us who are pensioners."

Some audience members also questioned the need to buy a building. "Can't we just rent one," asked Doug Seath.

Brannigan replied that, "We can do whatever the members want." She said she saw no problem with renting a suitable building.

It was stressed at the meeting that though full membership is restricted to Canadian service war veterans, wives and children of regular members could join as associate members and have the same rights.

Anyone else interested but not immediately related to a service veteran can join as a fraternal affiliate. Fraternal members however can't vote and they can't hold office in the organization.

Recently membership was also extended to veterans of the Canadian merchant marine and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"The Legion is a Service Club," explained Brannigan in an interview. "Our main purpose is to remember our dead heroes and to look after members and their families." But once that has been accomplished, she said, the Legion can "branch out into other service areas, such as raising money for community causes."

She said that the Legion's main emphasis is on seniors and youth.

Prospective members of the proposed Minden Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion fill out application forms at a public meeting held in the municipal building last Wednesday. Thirty-one applications were filled-in by the end of the meeting.

Lutterworth library still faces deadline

The search for a new home for the Lutterworth library is not going as well as Glynne Lewis had hoped.

Last November Lewis, a Lutterworth resident, persuaded council to postpone its planned closure of the township library until May 1, 1987 to give him time to search for a new building to house the facility.

But at last Thursday's council meeting, Lewis reported that the building he had hoped to get, an old sales office owned by Prentice-Berry Limited, is no longer available. He explained that the recreational equipment dealer recently withdrew its offer to sell the building, deciding instead to keep it.

However Lewis pointed out that the search is not over. He said that he now has his eye on another building, which, if suitable - it still has to be examined - could be had for only the cost of moving it to Lutterworth.

Council agreed to give Lewis time to negotiate with the owner.

Council voted to close the library last October in order to create much needed space for the Lutterworth municipal offices. It was argued that the facility, located in the basement of the municipal building, was not getting enough use from township residents to justify its staying open.

But Lewis convinced council to postpone its decision last November when he appeared at a meeting, armed with a petition with more than 100 signatures of township residents opposed to the closure of their library.

He said that many of those who signed didn't know the township had a library. "They were annoyed," he said, "because nothing had been done to publicize it...How can council expect people to use a library when no one knows it's there."

Lewis explained at the November council meeting that the library is, "Lutterworth's only cultural institution," and should stay open on those grounds alone.

He added that if it were closed, Lutterworth would be the only municipality in Haliburton without one.

Council agreed at that meeting to give Lewis until May 1 to find a new building for the library.

While debating the issue of the library closure last summer, council also looked for other alternatives. At one meeting, a representative of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture explained that his ministry would consider funding the construction of a new building if a feasibility study was done.

In turning down the offer, Reeve Bill Valentine noted that Lutterworth could buy a building for less than the $20,000 needed to pay for a feasibility study.

Council also considered using an information centre, jointly operated by Lutterworth and Anson, Hindon and Minden to house the library but finally decided the building, located at the southern end of the township on Highway 35, was too small.

The cost of moving the portable structure to a site closer to the more populated northern end of the township was also considered too high.

In an interview Monday Valentine explained that his council - except for councillor Al Stott - agree that Lutterworth residents could be adequately served from the Minden library.

"People from this township go to Minden at least twice a week to shop," he said, "and there's no reason they can't use the library as well."

Valentine said that Lewis had been allowed to take up the search for a new building for the library because "we're reasonable people. We're giving him a chance and we're going to see what he can come up with."

Lewis, a former Lutterworth Deputy Reeve, would be responsible for locating funds for a new building if one were found, he said.

He added that his main concern is the cost of the project. Large contributions from the municipal budget were recently made to the Haliburton hospital addition and to the newly organized county welfare office. Lutterworth, Valentine explained, can't afford to pay for a new library as well.

The sealing story

by Joel Levis
County Librarian

Young men came from all over the island to the ports of St. John's and Twillingate for the hunt, to "go swilin". They came for the seals. The came by sea and when there were roads, they walked. If there were no roads, they got there somehow!

They knew that there was no real money to made and they might have to pay for a berth on the boat and provide their own food, but came anyway. They came knowing that the only ones that were going to be making any money were the skippers of the ships and the men who owned them. They came because their fathers had done so and their fathers' fathers and so on for well over a century.

So even in 1914 knowing that they could lose fingers or other parts of the body to frostbite because they didn't have the proper clothes, they came. It is not nice at the front at the best of times for the strong and the weak are always the first to it, but sooner or later it gets to everyone.

The Skippers were hard men with heavy responsibility. They were the last word on their boats - and often the only word - and what they said was law. But even then, they didn't often let their men come to harm because they toom were men of the rock and Newfoundland is a small place.

But there are always exceptions. Captain Kean didn't want the extra men from the Florizel on his boat. They would eat his food and they took up space. But he was the skipper and when he sent them over the side with a storm on the way, they went because that was the way that it was.

Kean sailed away...and so did their ship. And so it was that these men spent their last hours on earth in the dreaded front of the ice pack with no food, no shelter, minimal clothing and of course, no protection from the elements.

Kean died quietly in his bed while the men he had discarded experienced slow and agonizing deaths over the next few hours. Not all died and those who survived told some terrible stories to the commission that investigated the disaster, but Kean suffered little.

The book is called Death on the Ice, by Cassie Brown, who narrates the whole phenomenon of why they went to the ice, how they lived and why - in this particular incident - they

Championship curlers take to Minden ice

Official Highlands Piper Earl Cooper leads the opening ceremonies of the Provincial Curling Championships held last Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Minden Curling Club. Here he escorts the eight intermediate teams across the ice. The division was won by Whitby Curling Club. The Junior Mixed division was taken by Tam Heather Country Club of Toronto. The four days of competition provided local spectators with an opportunity to see high calibre curling.

Novices tied

submitted

In the first and second games in a best two out of three series, Minden and Oakwood have played both games to a 1-1 tie.

Game one was played in Minden on Thursday night and right from the opening face off it was end to end hockey. The first period remained scoreless despite several chances by both teams.

Minden took the lead at 6:44 in the second on a goal by Andrew Wilbee assisted by David Raback and managed to keep the lead until 4:45 in the third period when Oakwood scored after a flurry in front of the Monarch's net.

In game two in Oakwood the next night, the story was a mirror image with both teams playing all out hockey. The game remained scoreless until 6:02 in the third and Oakwood taking the lead. Minden responded at the 2:00 minute mark to tie it up on a goal by Marty Dettman assisted by Andrew McKelvey.

Minden put forth a great team effort with Justin Rowden keeping Minden in both games with absolutely outstanding goaltending. However, don't take our word for it, the other team's coaching staff wanted to know "Where did you get that NHL goalie".

Come and see for yourself next Saturday at 5 p.m. It's the deciding game. Don't miss it.

Local curler helps championship rink

Laura Cross was "a bit nervous" when she competed as a substitute in the Provincial Junior Curling Championship in Minden last weekend. The feeling didn't last long. Pretty soon she was loving it.

Laura, a grade 12 student at HHSS played two games with the team from Tam Heather Country Club after one of the team members fell and hurt her back Thursday afternoon, the second day of the tournament. The championship is the highest level of curling competition in Ontario. This year 8 top teams came to Minden to take part in the four day event.

It turned out that Laura was an asset to her team. Despite their casualty, Tam Heather won the junior mixed division.

"I've been in bonspiels before - but nothing like this - it's kind of a different league," said Laura in an interview after the tournament.

Each team curled seven games. Laura curled on Thursday night and again on Friday morning. Later that day the injured Tam Heather player was recovered enough to return to the rink.

Laura said she got on well with the Tam Heather foursome even though she'd never met the team before. "I'd really like to curl with them again," she said. "I have their address and they have mine. With luck, we'll all get together again."

She explained that one thing she has decided since taking part in the tournament is that Haliburton County children should have more opportunity to learn to curl.

"I'd like to see more instruction for younger people," she said. "We just don't have the opportunities that so many of the people in the tournament take for granted."

She suggested that one thing that might help would be if a local league were created for younger players. "Because as it is," she explained, "If I want to curl I have to do it with my parents."

Grant approved for Dysart

John Eakins, Tourism and Recreation Minister and MPP for Victoria-Haliburton today announced that the Township of Dysart et al will receive special financial assistance of $1,168 from the province.

Speaking on behalf of Municipal Affairs Minister Bernard Grandmaitre, Mr. Eakins said the provincial funding will help offset the municipal tax loss resulting from the elimination of taxes on amusement ride machinery and equipment.

Provincial financial assistance is being provided over a three year period to phase in the impact of the tax loss. In 1988 the municipality will receive two-thirds of the 1987 amount and in 1989, one-third of the 1987 amount.

Rockcliffe wins Men's League title

The Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League season is over for 1987 and Team Rockcliffe has won the championship.

In the final match of a three game showdown Monday nights, Hall's Insurance and the Rockcliffe Foamblowers battled it out for three fast and rough periods. When the final buzzer went, the score board showed 7-5 for Rockcliffe.

But it was not an easy victory.

In the first period, both teams came out fighting. An early goal by Rockcliffe player Ted Vasey put his team in the lead.

Hall's seemed to be caught off balance. Another Rockcliffe point was got by Barry Shaw.

But Hall's fought back hard and their efforts paid off when Bernie Upton knocked in Hall's first goal.

However still in the first period, it was answered by two consecutive goals for Rockcliffe, both off the stick of Kevin Hamilton.

Hall's came back in the second period, but not soon enough to stop Rockcliffe's Jim Keetch from knocking in the first goal.

Hall's then took off on a 3 goal streak off the sticks of Dave Brown, Louie Reynolds and Lawrence Loughheed.

But the third period was a different story. With the score at 5-4 for Rockcliffe, Rockcliffe player Barry Flushed with victory, the Rockcliffe Foamblowers pose with the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League trophy which they won in Monday night's game. The Foamblowers include Bernie Neary, Paul Walker, Ted Vasey, Barry Shaw, Greg Carpenter, Peter Walker, Jim Keetch, Kevin Hamilton, Doug Schell, Merv Mintz, Barry Boice and Dave Pettes. Also in the photograph is team sponsor Dave Willis with Rockcliffe manager Murray Beetlestone.

Boice put in his team's sixth goal, giving his team a two point advantage.

Hall's Rick Salmon then charged in for his team's fifth goal but before the end of the game Barry Shaw of Rockcliffe put in his team's seventh goal and the final point of the match.

Midgets face Wheatly in All-Ontario

submitted

The Haliburton Huskies Midgets have advanced to All-Ontario Playdowns after eliminating Brighton three games to one in semi-final playoffs.

On March 17, Brighton travelled to Haliburton and defeated the hometown Huskies 5-1 to even the series at one win each. Jeff Popple assisted by Ron Perrin got the lone Haliburton goal.

Saturday, Haliburton was on the road in Brighton for the third game and with some of their regular Midgets home from Spring Break holidays, defeated the host team 6-3. The big gun on offence for the Huskies was Scott Nesbitt with three goals and two assists, Chris Lanigan had two and John Wells picked up a single.

Game four returned to Haliburton Sunday, March 22 with the Huskies needing a win to advance to the finals. Sunday saw the Huskies finally able to dress the full Midget team for the first time in this series. Scott Russell, Tom MacLeod, John Vanderhorst and Scott Nesbitt provided the Haliburton goals as they went on to win the game 4 to 1.

The Midgets will be facing the southern Ontario town of Wheatly in the all Ontario finals. The best of seven series opens this Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at the Haliburton arena. The second game is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. The series moves to Wheatly, the following weekend for two games, and then back to Haliburton, if more games are necessary.

Curling playoffs begin

The Minden Curling Club has completed a very successful and competitive second schedule. This week the playoffs begin and conclude with the Championship games next week.

Monday Night Ladies

Three teams were tied for first place after regular curling and first place was decided by the number of ends won. Catherine Kellett's rink of vice Bev Wood, second Marg Coulter and lead June Phillips took first place. In second place was Sally Bonner's rink of vice Glenda Robertson, second Ann Lee and lead Karen Colliss. Both rinks had identical records of 6 wins and 4 losses.

Tuesday Night Men

J.O. Jackson's rink of vice Peter Jennings, second George Hewitt and lead Paul Mayo, finished the season in winning form by defeating Jerry McKelvey 9-3. This gave J.O. first place with a record of 9-1-1 for 95 points. Dwight Thomas' rink of vice Howard Scott, second Ross Bryant and lead Shane McKelvey defeated Neil Burk's rink 8-6 to finish with an 8-2-1 record and second place.

Thursday Night Mixed

Bob Colliver's foursome finished their season with an 11-4 win over Jim Burton's rink. This gave the Colliver team, consisting of vice Jean Colliver, second Al LeBlanc and lead Denise LeBlanc a first place record of ten wins and one tie for 105 points. Stan Hill's team finished in second place with 7-3-1 record and 75 points. His team consisted of Ross Bryant, Harold Cowen and Isobel Lewis.

Friday Night Mixed

Friday night league was very competitive as only 20 points separated Don Blakey's first place team from tenth place. Don's team consisting of vice Mary Jane Irwin, second Fred Simmons and lead Eileen Simmons had a record of 8 wins and 3 losses for 80 points. Diane Warnes team with vice Mike Jackson, second Steve Lacey and lead Nadine Papp achieved second place with a record of 7 wins and 4 losses for 70 points.

This weekend our 11th Annual Straw and Stone mixed bonspiel starts on Friday night at 6:00 p.m. and on Saturday it concludes with a dance.

Minden W.I.

Twenty-one members and one guest were welcomed by vice president Mrs. C. Wilson at the meeting of Minden Women's Institute march 18 at the Library-Cultural Centre. She read an Old Irish Blessing and following the usual opening, reports were given by secretary Mrs. L. Cox and treasurer Mrs. A. Kernohan. The Roll Call of herbs used as medicine followed. Mrs. Wm. Moore reported sending 15 cards since the last meeting and collections for Pennies for Friendship and Card Fund were taken. The correspondence was read and this included a short course to which Mrs. D. Cox and Mrs. A. Kernohan will go as leaders. The plans were completed for the bus trip to Lanark and vicinity for June 9. Mrs. L. Cox, alternate director gave a full list from district directors meeting and the programme was arranged for the May 12 at Minden United Church. New Office on our executive will be a programme coordinator and a craft will be sent for sale at F.W.I.O. convention at North Bay.

We then heard from convenor Mrs. D. Cox and she showed us a film "Patterns of Love" and this was on quilts and quilting and we saw some familiar faces from our own District. The meeting was adjourned and all enjoyed a social half hour and lunch by the committee. Next meeting will be at this same place April 15 at 2 p.m. and all ladies are welcome. Jeanne Sears, P.R.O.

Those who need training the most often lack the basic skills they need to get started. The Ontario Basic Skills program prepares adults for a better future in Ontario's workplace. Free courses in three important areas are offered at most community colleges and sometimes through employer associations and unions.

Basic Skills for a better future.

TRAINING READINESS: Counsellors help trainees identify the kind of jobs they want and the starting point for a training plan that meets career objectives.

ACADEMIC UPGRADING: Courses provide up to grade 12 level in reading and writing, mathematics, science, and computer skills.

JOB SEARCH: Classes deal with how to write a resume, fill out applications, do well at interviews, and follow up on job leads. Trainees are taught how to compete in today's tough job market.

If you, or someone you know, wants to start the Ontario Basic Skills Program, contact the Ontario Basic Skills Office at your local community college, or call the toll-free HOTLINE at the number below.

For those who need them, there are allowances to help with costs of child-care, transportation and accommodation. Any Ontario resident over 25 and eligible to work in this province may apply.

Stolen truck found overturned in Minden

Minden OPP found a 1972 Chev pickup last Sunday morning that had been rolled over on the Bobcaygeon Road. The vehicle had been stolen Saturday night from the area of Kennedy Surplus in Haliburton Village.

Sentenced

A Minden man, Patrick James Kennedy, 25, was sentenced last Wednesday in Provincial Court to 14 days in jail for impaired driving, plus two years driver's licence suspension and 30 days in jail for failing to appear at court.

Kennedy was involved in an incident at the Dominion Hotel in Minden last Friday, for which he has been charged with breach of probation. He is scheduled to appear again in Provincial Court on May 6.

Assault

Gerald Cecil Johnson, 54, of Stanhope Township, was charged in court March 13 with one count of sexual assault and one count of attempt to commit sexual assault.

The charges stem from incidents in late 1985 and both involve young males. Johnson will appear in provincial court April 15.

Hunting offences

The following occurrences investigated by Conservation Officers from the Minden District, took place during the 1986 deer season.

On February 17 at Provincial Offences Court in Minden, Ronald Conkey of Toronto was convicted of unlawfully taking an antlerless deer and having a loaded firearm in a power boat. He was fined a total of $550.00 and had his hunting privileges suspended for one year.

Testimony at his trial revealed that on November 7 an illegal deer had been found hanging from a tree not far from Mr. Conkey's hunt camp.

When Mr. Conkey was checked, it was found he had a loaded firearm in a power boat. Further investigation revealed Mr. Conkey had illegally shot the antlerless deer the previous day. Investigating officer was Daniel Smith.

$2500 fine

On March 16 at Provincial Offences Court in Peterborough, James Mark was found guilty of unlawfully possessing three deer.

He was fined $2,500 and his hunting privileges were suspended for two years, in addition the three deer were forfeited.

A lengthy investigation revealed Mr. Mark had been involved in the illegal shooting and transporting of three deer while hunting from his cottage in Harvey Township.

Investigating officer was Dave Ferguson.

Voices of HHSS

Hi there! We're back from our own holiday with another edition. We hope you all had a wonderful March Break and that coming back to school wasn't too painful.

However, let's get to the last major event before the break - the 'big game.'

It may have been Friday the 13th but it certainly didn't have an effect on us. School was dismissed at 1:10 in order for us to see the high school hockey game between our team - the Redmen and the Fenelon Falcons. It was the 'big game' as many called it, to decide which team would move on to the All-Ontario finals in North Bay. We had won the previous night and everyone at the school was hoping for a repeat performance. We had confidence. It was almost forgotten that this was our first year of high school hockey.

In support of the hockey game, the school set up an IOU service to students who forgot to bring ticket money, in which they were given a special pass to get in. The purchase price was for this occasion, dropped to $2 for the school. Both of these factors ensured a large crowd of Redmen supporters to cheer them on. It certainly worked, because the arena was packed. This showed tremendous school spirit, not only by the students, but by the teachers. Many of them came along to help the Haliburton cheering section.

The game itself was super. When the first goal was scored by the Falcons, we began to get a little nervous, but we never for a moment lost our faith in the Redmen. Soon, we came right back to tie it, then to take the lead. All doubts were cast aside; we knew that in a short while, the win would come to us. When the last goal was scored (by us) many of us were outside the arena waiting for buses that were supposed to be there to take us back to school. Some were inside though, and after the final countdown ending the last period, witnessed the happiness that only comes from the combination of a winning team and a school with a lot of spirit. It is probably summed up best in the words of one of the fans at the game - "Now there's a game to remember."

That victory was a great way to start an excellent March Break. The sun shone every day of the week, as if it was made for people who wanted to enjoy their holiday. But then, let's face it, any holiday is enjoyed to its fullest or at least it should be.

But now we're back and most of us are suffering from 'post March-break-itis' which is never fatal, but is 99% dreaded by students. Time is the only cure; we all have to get used to doing homework again, sitting in tight, confining desks, taking notes and paying attention in class. By now, we should all be cured of our illness - hopefully!

During the week-long holiday the Grade 11 History class went on a field trip to Mexico, as others have done in the past. We hope that they all had a good time and that their sunburns aren't too bad.

If you have anything you would like to comment on, or if there are any questions, please write to us in care of The Times and we will try to respond as best we can.

See you next week, same time, same place.

Field trips provide first-hand experience

by Faith Aggett

This month the children of CHACE Day Care Centre were studying Community Helpers. They visited our local OPP station, the Texaco Service Station, the Post Office, the Ambulance Station and walked along Main Street, Minden to view the various businesses established there. The purpose was to stimulate their interest, extend their knowledge of the community they live in and the importance of services each person contributes.

Field trips and special visitors are educational methods used to provide children first hand information, observation and study. Little children learn most by having opportunities to see for themselves, to touch, to taste, to smell, to hear and then to talk about their experiences.

The stimulation of language expression is a prime value of a field trip. Generalizing in his own words from his own experience, promotes the child's learning. Discussing what they saw, how they felt, how it sounded and smelled, is thoroughly enjoyed by all the children and helps them remember.

Sometimes children develop misconceptions of some aspects of our world through television, misunderstanding of literature, the reactions of others around them. By offering them the opportunity to experience a situation for themselves in a positive factual manner may dispel any fears that they had harboured.

Certainly the information and the impressions left after each adventure will vary depending on the maturity of the child. The fear of spoiling their kindergarten experiences by introducing them to the resources around us is unfounded. With each age group a new discovery will be made, a new excitement and interest sparked.

How often do we, as adults, taking the same route daily, discover some aspect along the way that we hadn't noticed before?

Field trips can truly enrich and broaden the preschooler's world. Parent involvement and parent-teacher interaction enables them to add family experiences that build on the foundation the centre initiates.

Well folks! It really looks like spring is here. Some are already in the sugarbush tapping the trees.

Our week started as usual with services Sunday evening with our good friends Mr. and Mrs. Burgess assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. Tuesday morning service was conducted by Rev. Moll of Minden United Church. The ladies from Allsaw came with our tea party. It was lovely and the music and singing after was certainly enjoyed by everyone.

Sorry to report that Winnie Barnum is still on the sick list.

Our sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mr. Durant who passed away suddenly last week.

We are glad to see Mrs. Shuyler home from he hospital. She is still quite weak but improving.

Guests on Saturday for Charlie Brohm were two sons, Don and his wife from Lindsay and Ed and his wife from Toronto.

On March 17 we had real nice entertainment with Margie Swanton, Steve Ricketts, Norman Graham, Billie Moore and Doris Robertson (3 violins, 2 guitars, piano) also Gordon Ruttle on his kettle drum. Those who were dressed in green for St. Patrick's Day were judged. Mary Casey won top prize, second was Royce Harrison and Jean Taylor was third. The judges were Edith Welch, Mary Oliver, Ada Lewis and Helen Brown. I got a few of the names of prize winners in euchre and bridge, Dora Dawson, Doris Robertson, George Hewitt, Laurie Bacon, Emma Hewitt, Gordon Ruttle, Pearl Lyle. I do apologize for not getting all the names, with the noise and confusion and not hearing too well, I miss a lot of things.

Mr. Rosser and Mr. Westaway of Haliburton called on Mrs. Buttery. Also her sister Ruth Kellett called on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyle and sons called on his grandmother (that's me) on Saturday and took me to dinner at the George Hewitts.

If someone's smile can help you through, please smile at folks when they meet you.

All for now!

Guild news

by Shirley Hodgson

The first day of spring arrived this week and really, hasn't the weather been just perfect for the spring break?

Spring is a wonderful time for new things and new ideas for everyone.

I do hope that all guild members are working diligently for the April show - "A Thing for All Things". This is your show, no matter what craft you are interested in, I am sure you will be able to come up with some original ideas.

Please check your last newsletter and you will get your entry form for "A Time for All Things". Once you have decided what you would like to do just follow these simple steps.

Brainstorm: List all the 'times for' that you can imagine.

Choose: One of these that appeals to you.

Design: Your ideas on paper.

Create: Your work in your chosen medium and all the while enjoy the process.

If you have any questions please phone the gallery at 457-2330.

The student show begins April 3 and runs until April 15. Students from all corners of Haliburton County will display their best artistic efforts which have been selected by local artists for special scholarship awards, which have been donated by many community businesses.

Children who win these Art awards are given a one week art course at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts in the media of their choice.

At the same time there will also be some very interesting art done by children from all over the world. This art has been collected by UNICEF. These pictures are on loan from the Children's International Art Centre in Hamilton.

The Whetung Gallery Artists show from Curve Lake is continuing to attract attention at the gallery. It will be there until March 28. This display certainly has been well received so far.

I do hope that all the people in Haliburton County are aware that the Haliburton County Spring Show and Sale for Artists is being held at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden from March 16 until March 28. The gallery hours are Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Don't forget to purchase your 'Four Seasons Fashion Show' tickets at the Rails' End Gallery.

NOTICE

Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit is offering a free immunization clinic for:

Haemophilus B Meningitis Vaccine for children aged 24 months to 60 months.

April 9, 1987 9:30 a.m. to 12 Noon and 1:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at your local health unit. No appointment is necessary.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: What does a fly wear on a date?

A: A gnaty outfit.

Q: Why do millionaires find it hard work to hold on to their money?

A: It's very taxing.

Q: What makes a loaf of bread happy?

Winners of the trips at IGA to Barbados or Las Vegas were Heidi Avella of Winona and Helen Lalonde of Midland.

Found out last week you may obtain a photo for your passport or visa at Highland Travel beside Home Hardware on Thursday.

Guests last week with Jean and Arthur Marsh last week were her sister Mrs. Edward Thibibeau of Yarmouth N.S., and her mother Mrs. Annie Beatty of Tweed.

Happy to report that Cliff Lacey is home this week but goes back for further treatment shortly. He thanks all his friends for their good wishes, cards etc.

Guests last week with Mrs. A. Kerhohan and Joan were Barb and Tom Parish of North York and Valerie and Keith Kernohan, Angela and Richard of Scarborough.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Jerry Durant, Aubrey Horsley and Verna Priest who passed away recently.

Guest last week with grandparents Pearl and Arnold Cowen was Master Trevor Clement of Scarborough.

Alan and Helen Brydson and Lesley-Ann of Bracebridge visited with Irene Moore last Thursday.

There was a meeting of interested veterans at the Municipal office last Wednesday night with those in charge Mabel Brannigan, Mel Robertson, Doug Pritchard, Fred Knight, Gwen Cox and Phil Graham. Much interest was shown and hopefully a branch of the Royal Canadian Legion will be formed in Minden.

Paul Northey, son of Audrey and Les of Minden, has completed his basic training with the U.S. Army and is now stationed at Patrick Air Base in Florida.

Debby Rylance and Will and Mitchell of Roseneath visited grandma Mary Cox in the March Break.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Clarke, Mike, Tanya and Leslie of Whitby spent part of March break with aunt Gladys Wruth and other relatives.

Welcome back from a well-deserved holiday in Florida to Edith and Jim D'Angelis of South Lake Trailer Park.

Winners at the euchre games last Tuesday night at Lochlin Centre were for lone hands, Bruce O'Brien and Ruth Kellett, Audrey Vick, Norm Harrison Sr., and Harry Wooley. Next games will be held March 31.

Carol and Reg Leaman and Karen of Keswick visited the Milton Sears on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith of Port Perry recently spent a weekend with Ceila Brown.

Winners at Club 35 on Monday night included most lone hands Harry Randall, high lady Ines Mestroni and high man Art Beattie. The door prize was won by Clarence Bunker and the other winners were Minnie Dawson, Bill Cowen and Olive Daniels.

A pleasant weekend was spent by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Donaldson of Harcourt with her parents Neil and Norma Burk.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Little and Christopher and Heather enjoyed a weekend in Toronto.

Birthdays close at hand are Raymond Chiasson March 30 and Mary Cowen and Florence Robinson April 1. Good wishes to all.

May Hicks and Bessie Burk enjoyed a visit with Isabel Robertson at Lutterworth Estates Sunday evening.

Gladys Reid and Mrs. Merle Reid were especially happy to see the skating show in honour of gold medallist Brian Orser.

At St. Paul's Anglican euchre last Thursday afternoon winners were - for lone hands Gladys Wruth. Others - May Spence, Melissa Hampson (cut) and Esther Lee and Agnes Mullins (both men's).

Mr. and Mrs. Keith

Kennel call

The following dog is available for adoption from the Minden Animal Clinic. If you are interested in providing a home for this animal, please contact Dr. P.J. Bennett at 286-2919. - a big black Labrador, part St. Bernard, approximately two years old, male. He's big, beautiful and lovable.

Beatty and Chris of Dunnville called on Ceila Brown on Saturday.

Visiting with her many friends in the Minden-area, Mrs David Archibald (the former Marta Scythes) spent an enjoyable time.

Dorothy and Sunny Kellett of Richmond Hill spent last week with Gladys Wruth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bev Hicks, Joel and Rachel of Oshawa visited on Sunday with Bessie Burk.

Visitors last Thursday with Pearl and Arnold Cowen were Ross and Carol Wilson of Delhi.

Roger, Kelly and Holly Hicks of Oshawa spent Friday evening with Bessie Burk then went on to spend the weekend with Eileen McGuire of West Guilford.

If you think you are getting too much 'junk' mail, we read a letter in the Toronto Sunday Star and there was a phone number to call to get off the lists which are sold by Tele-direct (Bell) 1-800-268-4158. How about mailing those postage paid envelopes, then we may help to keep the postal people busy. Guess we're going to have another postage increase in April.

The Irondale St. John's Anglican Church is having a "Songs of Praise" service on March 29 at 2:30 to celebrate their 100th anniversary and they are also selling medallions with a picture of their church.

The Leslie Frost Centre near Dorset is having a Maple Syrup Day on Saturday, March 28. Also on March 29, Minden Figure Skating Club presents 'Trivia' so get there early to get a good seat. The show starts at 2:00 p.m.

Lovely March Break and we may get some rain later this week to wash away the snow. My crocuses are out and I thought I heard a robin this morning. Spring is here, but we had a bad snowfall in April of last year.

Keep smiling!

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

Convention time is once again upon us. We have just finished a Zone Convention and in April and May, we will see the District and Provincial Conventions at Belleville and Kingston. Your branch will send seven delegates to each of these.

Your executive has approved Ways and Means Chairman, Comrade Ed Pickard's selection of a fourteen foot aluminum boat (complete with oarlocks and oars) a 9.9 h.p. Mariner motor and a boat trailer for the summer draw to be made on August 8 during the annual Legion Bluegrass Festival.

Were you one of the three hundred in attendance at the Bluegrass show last Saturday night? What a show! The newly-formed Bluegrass Connection opened the show. This was their first public performance and, while they are still unpolished, they have the talent to be one of Canada's top Bluegrass groups.

Then, the group everyone had come to see and hear took the stage - The Boys From Indiana. They put on a fantastic show that had the audience clapping to their rhythms, singing to the old familiar tunes and jumping to their feet to give this group standing ovations and requesting encore numbers. During the night, president Joan and I were given hats from the Boys From Indiana. These are treasured souvenirs.

The 1987 Bluegrass show is all planned and ads will soon be appearing all over this province and into the United States. Final contracts with all performers have been signed. Artists and groups appearing will be Mac Wiseman from Nashville, McDonald Bluegrass from Callendar, Blue Mule from Kingston, Streets and Hills from Hamilton, the Taylor Family from Hamilton, White Water Bluegrass from St. Thomas, Bluegrass Connection from Peterborough, Roger Spence (possibly Canada's top dobro player) from Cannington and the Cindy Thompson Show. M.C.'s will be Bob Wood from Port Perry and Jim Higgins from Lindsay. The sound system will be supplied by Something Bluegrass from Burlington.

I hope you agree with me that this sounds like a great line-up. Plan now to attend the Legion Bluegrass Festival on August 7, 8 and 9.

Three of our young cadets have spent the March break at a Junior Leader's Course at Camp Petawawa. They, in turn, can assist in the training of other cadets.

A week ago Saturday, an Interbranch Dart Tournament was held at your branch. Winners were: Team Kinmount, Doubles Cannington and Singles - Kinmount. During the course of play, two perfect scores were registered.

The Johnny Maughan Open Dart Tournament will be played on April 4. See you there.

D.V.A. representative Gary Barker will be here on March 31 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Call Lloyd Whittaker for an appointment.

Don't forget the general meeting on April 2 at 8 p.m. Besides general business, this will be nominations night.

During the March break, Joan and I with our friends Les and Arthella Smith travelled to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. While there we toured the site of the largest battle during the U.S. Civil War. The battle there was the turning point in the North/South war. So much history has been preserved in that little town.

We also toured the home of Dwight D. and Mamie Eisenhower. They had a beautiful farm only minutes away from the town centre. This would be a fantastic trip for Haliburton Legionnaires. Think about it. How about next March break?

Harrison elected to OREA board

Norman A. Harrison, a Minden area real estate broker, has been re-elected Regional Vice President for Region 7 of the Ontario Real Estate Association (OREA).

Region 7 incorporates the Bancroft District, Cobourg-Port Hope, Haliburton District, Lindsay District, Oshawa, Peterborough and Quinte Real Estate Boards. As Regional Vice President, Harrison will sit on the provincial association's Board of Directors and will act as liaison between OREA and the local real estate boards of his region.

Harrison, 58, is a broker owner of Haliburton Highlands Realty Ltd., in Minden and is a former president of the Haliburton District Real Estate Board. Harrison is married and has four children.

OREA represents 55 per cent of all licensed real estate professionals in Canada and 80 per cent of licensees in Ontario. Its 38,000 members are spread through 48 local real estate boards.

CARD OF THANKS

To all, thank you very much for your cards, calls, gifts and visits during my stay in hospital and since coming home. A very special thanks to all those who have brought in meals and desserts for us and for doing laundry. I have to say thanks to Shirl for making sure Tommy had a birthday cake, to Mom for Tommy's pie and my birthday dinner. To Tom and the Boys - you guys are special, I love you all. Again, thanks to everyone.

IN MEMORIAM

STEELE, Gene - In loving memory of a very dear friend who passed away suddenly on March 25, 1985. Memories are like threads of gold, They never tarnish or grow old. A little tribute small and tender, Just to say we still remember.
Sadly missed by Sherry Sawyer, Deloris and Scott Bailey.

IN MEMORIAM

STEELE, Gene Shawn Patrick. March 25, 1985. He is gone but not forgotten And, as dawns another year In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come o'er us, Many think the wound is healed, But little they know the sorrow, That lies in the heart concealed.
Mom & Dad, Lorrie, Wayne, Robert, Bonnie, Linda, Gerry and friends.

PORTER, Bertha - In loving memory of my dear mother Bertha who passed away March 15, 1984. She has gone across the river To the shore of evergreen, And I long to see her dear face, But that river flows between Someday, sometime I shall see, The face I loved so well Someday I will clasp her hand And never say farewell.

Sadly missed, always remembered by son Bill, daughter-in-law Darlene and family.
